PLAN NEW COMPANY
Local Financiers to Engage in Fire Insurance.
WILL ERECT LARGE BUILDING

"Capital Fire Insurance Company"
Name of Incorporation to be Launched in Short Time—Site for Home Office on F Street Already Selected—Deal to be Closed Shortly.

Rumors have been current in financial circles for several weeks that a new fire insurance company was forming, which would erect a fine office building for its permanent home, and inaugurate a large insurance business in Washington.

Several months ago these rumors pointed to the purchase of the controlling interest in the stock of one of the local fire insurance companies, with a view to its reorganization by New York parties and its enlargement upon a basis equivalent to one of the prominent fire insurance concerns of the country, which should have its home in Washington, with branch offices elsewhere.

This week these rumors have taken a more definite form, and it is now claimed that such a company is about to be launched, under the name of the Capital City Fire Insurance Company, and that it will erect a building to cost about $100,000. The company, it is said, will occupy the ground floor of the proposed building, the upper floors to be rented for office purposes. Negotiations are said to be far advanced for the site of the building, which is to be on F street, in the upper part, and the new building, it is said, will be an imposing structure among the large business buildings already erected and to be erected in the financial district of the Capital.

Site Already Selected.
The Capital City Fire Insurance Company is already located in the offices of Ricketts & Eymon, at 1325 F street northwest, and it was said last night by interested parties that negotiations well under way for the purchase of a site for the new building, are expected to be closed within the next few days.

One of the requirements of the insurance laws of the District is that a fixed amount of assets shall be invested in Washington, and it is stated that the company has determined to put more than the required amount of capital into the new building, as it is thought that the rental from such a building will be more remunerative than a similar amount invested in interest bearing securities.

It was said last night that the capital stock of the new company would be placed at $100,000, to be subscribed for and paid in at $1.50 a share, thus providing a surplus of $50,000 over and above the cost of the proposed building.

Local Capital in Control.
It appears that the Capital City Fire Insurance Company was organized several weeks ago by New York parties, but that control of it has recently passed into the hands of local capitalists, and it is said to be the present policy of the company to limit the sale of the remaining shares of the stock to residents of Washington. Besides the usual advantage offered for stock of a similar character, the stockholders of the new company are offered special inducements in the way of insurance, provided they become identified with this company.

It is proposed to carry on a general insurance business, with branch offices in the larger cities of the country. It is expected that the profits from this business will be such as to make the ownership of stock valuable, at least within a reasonable period. The plans of the company, it is stated, are well matured, so that its success is looked upon by those in the confidence of the promoters as assured.

It was said last night that agents of the company are already at work, and it is expected that the advanced premium contracts will equal, if not surpass, the capital of the company on the day it starts in business.

STOP TO SEE SIGHTS.

CONCLUDES KEMP HEARING.
Grand Jury Has Heard All the Evidence in the Case.
The grand jury yesterday concluded the hearing of evidence in the case against J. Arthur Kemp, the absconding police department clerk, who, it is alleged, embezzled more than $8,000. Property Clerk Hesse, Kemp's successor, again gave evidence along the line of certain investigations he had made of Kemp's books.

Commodore Sutton, Capt. Daley, Boyle, Sullivan, Mulhall, Byrnes, Schneider, and Elliott appeared before the jurors and told what they knew as regards the manner of keeping the books of the Police Association.

"BUGTITS" IS THE LATEST.
Those Little Green Insects Are Held Responsible.
Bugtits is the latest affliction which has recently been giving the people of Washington, and more particularly the street car motorman, a great deal of trouble this summer. Bugtits is caused by a little green bug not much larger than a minute. It gets in people's eyes and causes a stinging irritation. The bugs hang out around the electric lights. Some one has called them owl bugs as they are only to be seen at night.
Motormen have been bothered by the insects more than any other class of workmen, owing to the fact that during their working hours they are constantly passing rapidly under the electric lights. Swarms of the trouble makers are encountered by the man at the controller, and almost before he can wink his eyelids one or two or three of the little fellows have been slammed against his eyeball, and the pests are very often mistaken for sand which he has thrown at them.

TUCKER CHARGES BASELESS
Investigation Fails to Develop Any Damaging Facts.
War Department Not Likely to Take Further Action Against the Army Officer.
There is little likelihood, according to statements of officials of the War Department, that any action will be taken in connection with the charges preferred against Col. William F. Tucker, of the pay department of the army, by his wife, who is the daughter of the late Gen. John A. Logan.
When the formal complaint of unbecoming conduct was lodged by Mrs. Tucker with the department, Secretary Taft turned the matter over to the inspector general's department for an investigation.
The charges insinuated improper conduct on the part of Col. Tucker with a woman who was a school teacher in the Philippines. While the inspector general has not completed his inquiry, enough has been developed to indicate that the charges cannot be substantiated, and that Col. Tucker stands in no danger of being called to account.
It is said that the War Department is not desirous of being a party to divorcing the wives of officers in the procurement of divorces, or becoming involved in family disagreements. Of course, if the investigation developed the fact that Col. Tucker had been guilty of unbecoming conduct, the department would take action.
It is further said that Mrs. Tucker did not make her complaint to the department until after Col. Tucker had sought to administer the estate of her deceased son, who was left a large amount of property by the late George E. Lemon, of this city. Whether the department will dismiss the charges formally, or allow them to die without action, is a question not decided.
